Request for Contribution Refund Instructions

If you wish to withdraw your member contributions plus interest, you must terminate your employment and submit a Request for Refund and/or Rollover Application to each of your current employer(s). If you terminated employment more than three months ago, you may submit the application directly to NMERB.

Refunds are processed in two phases: 1) The initial check will be for contributions and interest posted to your account as of the date the refund is processed. This check will generally be processed within 20 working days from the date we receive a valid and completed refund application; 2) A second check will be issued in approximately four months for additional contributions reported after the refund date. These dates are subject to change; delays are typically based on employer report of final earnings and administrative processing.

Please check your application for accuracy. You must select one of the options from Section II: Direct Refund, Direct Rollover or Direct Partial Rollover. If you select a rollover to another qualified plan you must include your financial institution's information and an account number. If you wish to have your refunds processed as soon as administratively possible and waive the Federal 30 day waiting period, please check the appropriate box. Both you and your spouse, if you are married, must sign this form in the presence of a notary public in Sections III and IV.

New NMERB Retirement Eligibility Rules

After you receive a full refund of your member contributions, you will have no service credit as of July 1, 2010. If you later rejoin the NMERB on or after July 1, 2010, you will be subject to the new retirement eligibility rules.

Summary of IRS Regulations on Periodic Distributions

Contributions made before July 1, 1983 and payments made to purchase service have already been taxed and are therefore non-taxable when distributed from your account; these contributions are not eligible for a Direct Rollover. Contributions since July 1, 1983 and total interest earned have been taxed deferred and are taxable when distributed; the taxable balance is eligible for a rollover and all or any portion of your account balance can be taken as a direct refund or as a direct rollover. A rollover is a tax free transfer of an eligible distribution from one qualified employer retirement plan directly to another qualified plan or to an Individual Retirement Arrangement (IRA).

If you choose a direct refund:

Tax deferred contributions and accumulated interest credited to your account are taxed upon withdrawal. The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) requires NMERB to withhold 20% from your refund if you do not rollover the funds to a qualified retirement plan or IRA. In addition, the IRS imposes a special penalty tax on early distributions, such as a lump sum distribution, received before the plan participant reaches age 59½. This special penalty tax of 10% of the taxable portion of the distribution is applied in addition to the regular income tax.

If you choose a direct rollover:

The taxable balance of your contributions and interest are not taxed in the current year and no income tax is withheld. Your refund will be made directly to the IRA or qualified plan you identify on your refund application. Your refund will be taxable when you take it out of the IRA or qualified plan. You may select to rollover any portion (percentage) of your taxable balance. The portion of the taxable balance you receive as direct refund will be taxed in the year in which you receive payment.

The federal income tax withholding rate of 20% applies to eligible distributions made from a qualified retirement plan, such as NMERB. This tax shall be withheld on any eligible distribution made to a member, the member's surviving spouse or to an alternate payee if it is not rolled over directly into another qualified or IRA.

This message summarizes the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) rollover rules and is not intended as tax advice. To determine how IRC rollover rules apply to your situation, we suggest that you consult with a qualified tax professional for advice. Please note the 20% mandatory federal tax withholding is the responsibility of the NMERB. Any further tax liability is the sole responsibility of the member.
